AFFILIATIONS

Kentucky Bar Association - Member

Jeff is a partner in the firm's Litigation Group, licensed to practice in the state and federal courts throughout Kentucky and Ohio.

With over twenty years of trial and arbitration experience, Jeff counsels business clients on how to cost-effectively resolve their commercial disputes, as well as how to avoid new ones. As a determined problem solver, Jeff serves as outside general counsel for a number of area businesses. He also works with a number of national title insurance companies to resolve real estate issues.

Jeff is active with the Northern Kentucky Chamber of Commerce - currently serving on its Executive Committee, chairing the Leadership Advisory Council, and serving as a member of the Eggs 'N Issues Planning Committee. Jeff is also active with the St. Elizabeth Foundation and Covington Business Council. Earlier in his career, Jeff served for sixteen years as a member of the Fort Thomas Planning Commission, taught numerous courses at Chase College of Law as an adjunct professor for twelve years, and chaired the Banking, Commercial & Bankruptcy Committee for the Ohio State Bar Association.

Jeff and his wife, Carolyn, and three children live in Northern Kentucky. Jeff enjoys spending time with his family and supporting the arts, often simultaneously. Jeff currently serves as vice president for The Carnegie and is a past president for the Kentucky Symphony Orchestra.
