Mark A. Ogle is a Family Lawyer with a reputation of treating his clients with compassion. His passion for finding the best possible solution for each individual client is evidenced by the many “thank you” notes and cards he receives after the representation is completed. He helps his clients settle their cases as quickly and amicably as possible in order to avoid trial. However, when resolution cannot be achieved, he tirelessly advocates for his clients’ rights. Mark represents clients at every social and economic level, from Professional Athletes and Corporate Executives to Small Business Owners, Doctors, Teachers, Industrial Employees, and Homemakers and has worked on cases with assets well over $20 million and those with assets fewer than $50 thousand. He handles all types of issues related to divorce, such as difficult custody matters, child support, business evaluations, division of retirement accounts, and spousal maintenance issues.

Mark has been a part of shaping the Domestic Relations Law for the Commonwealth of Kentucky. Mark’s appellate practice has set in place new law as it pertains to non-biological third party rights to children where the biological parent failed to act timely to assert his/her rights, and he helped to establish a clearer definition for parties, attorneys and judges regarding the complicated area of subject-matter jurisdiction and modification of custody under the Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction Enforcement Act. Since 2006, Mark has been a Fellow of the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers, one of the most prestigious groups of family lawyers in the United States. He currently serves as President of the Kentucky Chapter. Mark is also a member of the Family Law Sections of the American Bar Association, Kentucky Bar Association, and the Northern Kentucky Bar Association and is a frequent speaker at bar association events.

Mark graduated from High School in Western Kentucky and continued his education at Centre College of Kentucky where he played basketball on a NCAA Division III Final Four team, as well as earning letters in three sports--Basketball, Baseball and Golf. Mark was selected as an All-Conference Athlete in two sports--Basketball and Baseball. Following college, he attended Northern Kentucky University Salmon P. Chase College of Law. Prior to joining Graydon, Mark was a partner at Cors & Bassett before launching his own practice, Mark A. Ogle Family Law.

In his spare time, Mark enjoys long rides on his bicycle, traveling, as well as, spending time with his 4 daughters and 5 grandchildren. He also enjoys the Reds, basketball at all levels, a round of golf, and cooking for and with his family and friends.
